

PET FOOD RECALL

The Scotts Company has expanded on its original list of five recalled suet products and added an additional 7 products that may contain Peanut Corporation of America's (PCA) peanut paste. There exists the possibility that the paste may be contaminated with Salmonella. The recalled products are:

Morning Song Nutty Safari Suet
Morning Song Raisin Crunch Suet
Morning Song Woodpecker Suet
Morning Song Variety 3-Pack Suet
Morning Song Variety 15-Pack Suet
Scotts Multi-Bird Suet
Scotts Woodpecker Suet
Royal Wing Woodpecker Suet
Royal Wing Peanut Suet
Royal Wing Raisin Suet
Morning Melodies Nutty Safari Suet
Morning Melodies Variety Suet

The recalled products were manufactured at the PCA facility between May 13, 2008 and February 8, 2009. At this time, Scotts has not received any reports of illness involving the recalled suet products.

Scotts has requested that its retailers and distributors recall the affected products, remove the products from retail and warehouse shelves and return them to Scotts. In addition, Scotts has requested that those parties that sell the affected products respond to consumer questions by telling them to throw the product away, avoid touching unsealed product with bare hands, and wash their hands thoroughly after touching unsealed products.
